

DELEGATES' IMPRESSIONS OF FARMERS CONVENTION; J. W. WOOD CHOSEN VICE-PRES.

The Ninth Annual Convention of the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. held in First Presbyterian Church Edmonton from the 23rd to the 29th January has passed from the realm of expectancy to that of memory. The aims and achievements of the Organization are well known throughout the length and breadth of the province, thanks to that valuable medium the press, but more effective medium of the several thousand delegates visitors who congregate from the four points of the compass and who having left their mark go back to their homes, refreshed in body and mind, and with a broader and brighter outlook for the future. The 1917 program was a heavy one, containing many resolutions of vital importance, not only to farming interests, but to the whole rural community. Possibly the most important and far reaching resolution discussed unanimously, endorsed by the Convention were those pertaining to Agricultural Credit and Rural Hospitals. A measure embodying the principle of the former will be put before the legislature at next session. Official Reports, Addresses by representatives of allied interests, and discussions on resolutions, on a matter more interesting, would prove tedious were these not relieved by social events of a standard character, leaving nothing to be desired. The informal reception at the University on Tuesday night combining education and pleasure was almost unique. Short addresses by the Principal of the University, the Minister of Agriculture and Public Works, and the progress of these institutions were punctuated by excellent musical items. Short addresses by the Presidents of the U.F.A. and the U.F.W.A. Light refreshments were served by the students, after which all were free to visit laboratories where students were still in attendance to ex-

LIUT. E. R. WEBSTER SENDS MESSAGE TO MAYOR GREEN

Upon reading in the Wainwright Star the story of Matthew Green's unanimous election as mayor of Wainwright, Lieutenant Eric R. Webster sent from England the following message: "Heartiest congratulations on your unanimous election as Mayor of Wainwright and I hope the town will enjoy a prosperous time under your care." It will be remembered that Mr. Webster was once stationed here as Corporal of Royal North West Mounted Police, Headquarters for active service at the outbreak of the war, was sent to Egypt in the fall of 1915, came to France in the spring of 1916, where he was in active service on the Somme front until December last. He is now a Lieutenant in the Royal Field Artillery of the British Army. He is spending a few weeks well earned rest at his home in Surrey, England. His circle of friends here will be glad to learn of his success and well being through his varied experience in the war.

GILT EDGE

The hard time dance in aid of the stable at the Orange Hall was one of the old time style and was a grand success. Miss Trayner and Joe Denoncourt taking the prize for the hardest up couple. The committee wish to thank all those who took part in the affair.

Carl Anderson was a visitor to Wainwright at the beginning of the week. Joe Denoncourt and T. O'Reilly are letting Jack Frost play with their wood pile.

The U.F.A. held its annual meeting on Monday Jan. 20 the following officers were elected: Pres. Geo. Babb; Vice Pres. J. R. Allison; Sec. Travis H. Anderson. Meeting nights are first and second Tuesday of each month.

At the Flaxtonville school district meeting, it was decided to enlarge the school as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

"Citizen" writes timely letter to this issue regarding our carriage and conduct at public functions which should prove helpful.

plain experiments being carried on. Wednesday night was devoted to addresses by Mr. Sanford Evans, Chairman of the Georgian Bay Canal Commission, on the Marketing of Grain, with lantern illustration and Mr. T. A. Orenar, Pres. of the Grain Growers Grain Co. Ltd. Those who missed these addresses as well, it was their misfortune. Thursday afternoon the Lady delegates visitors to the number of 300 enjoyed the hospitality of the Governor in General, who, by the way, did not confine his interest in the Convention to his opening address but kept in touch with the sittings of the convention.

The 2nd Annual Banquet held in the Macdonald Hotel on Thursday night was a pleasing event. The large dining hall was taxed to its utmost capacity. The menu disposed of, but so happily were business, bursar and pleasure intermingled in the addresses in the reply to the several toasts, those also being interspersed with musical items, that the interest of even the most difficult to please could not flag. Wainwright Local which ranks as the 1st strongest in the Province proved its interest in the work and success of the organization by the number of delegates and visitors who attended and took part in the 1917 Convention. It is very gratifying not only to the delegates and visitors, but to the whole membership of Local 290 to know that their President J. W. Wood who was appointed to the Central Board as Director for Battle River Constituency at last years Convention, was this year elected to the executive as Vice Pres. It is also pleasing to know that Mr. H. E. Spencer of Edmonton (McCauley local) follows Mr. Wood as Director for Battle River Constituency. Mr. Spencer is Vice Pres. of the U.F.W.A.

To Wainwright delegates and visitors the most pleasing social event of the week was that of Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Wood extended to them a cordial welcome and unstinted hospitality at their home in Edmonton. Delegates and Visitors: Major Penckold and Miss Penckold, Mr. and Mrs. R. Aykroyd, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Watson, Dr. Little, Mrs. Chas. Gibson, Mr. Dewar, Mr. and Mrs. A. Patterson, Mr. Lee Wells, John Reid, Chas. Newport, Arch McLean, E. Garneau, G. Murray, C. Abernethy, Leo O'Reilly and Peter Dewar.

MARTIN BURREL'S APPEAL TO FARMERS' GREATER PRODUCTION

For two years and a half, War, red and ruinous, has raged through the world, and still no decision has been reached. There is a reason to hope that before 1917 closes the struggle for liberty will have been won, or greatly advanced. Amid the various phases of this titanic conflict the fact stands out more clearly than ever that agriculture is of supreme importance. Extraordinary measures are being taken by the allied countries to increase and encourage production. It is earnestly hoped that every farmer in Canada will strive to increase the food supply of the Empire. A still more powerful and unscrupulous enemy openly avows its intention to try and sink all ship carrying supplies to England during the coming year. In the tremendous strain yet to come a vital factor will be an ample and unflagging flow of food to England and France. No matter what difficulties may face us the supreme duty of every man on the land is to use every thought and every energy in the direction of producing more, and still more.

The Wainwright Mill will be open for grain and chipping on Monday Feb. 26, 1917.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir: Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper, to express my feelings on a subject which has often compelled my attention and which occurs nearly every time there is a public entertainment held in our local theatre. I refer to the department of Wainwright audiences.

On this subject our town, I am sorry to say, seems to be in a class by itself, and that class is neither second nor third but might be described as "stale" or plain downright "confronted." What is commonly described as refinement, good manners, good breeding seems to be lacking, at times as far as the audience's conduct towards entertainers is concerned. This indictment by no means applies to all who attend public entertainments, for there are a great many cultured people who know how to give their attention and dignified appreciation.

I would like to call attention particularly to that loud, vulgar, raucous applause commonly known as "cat calling," as a means of showing appreciation. This is not only "confronted," but is very disconcerting to the man or woman of refined tastes or sensitive nerves. This kind of thing, I know, is indulged in principally by the boys, but also frequently by some men. The more ought to know better by experience, and the boys ought to be taught. They could be taught in the first instance at home; in the second at the school; and in the third at the theatre. If the management of our theatre and we are proud to have such an excellent place of entertainment should make it distinctly known that such conduct would not be tolerated. It would go a long way to ensure our boys and men of this kind of applause, and, needless to say, no doubt be given instantly and ignorantly.

In any well-conducted meeting, loud talking, restlessness, or disturbances of any kind would not be countenanced for a moment, and those causing the nuisance would be immediately ejected from the building. There is no reason under the sun why our town should remain in a "rube" condition in this respect but should aspire to something better, even to the standards of city audiences.

Of course I am aware, sir, that undisciplined people are to be found everywhere and perhaps our town has no more of them than any other place of the same size, and in making these remarks I must not be considered as "knocking" but as agitating for better things. In the hope of higher ideals let me suggest, after Madam Madge, that it is considered very bad manners to enter a public meeting late held in theatre, hall or church. You disturb the audience and annoy the speaker, player or singer. It is equally rude to leave before the entertainment is ended unless the interval be chosen when nothing is going on. "At a concert this is particularly true, for there are devotees of music who hang upon every note and to whom it is a distinct loss to miss a single phrase of the compositions they have come to hear. Singers and players generally possess the sensitive, sympathetic, artistic temperament, and it is wounding to them to see members of the audience fidgeting, rustling about, chattering, laughing and otherwise showing inattention when they are doing their best to entertain them. It is, therefore very unbecoming, rude, and "rustic" to be guilty of these things. I should be happy to find, sir,

HEATH MAN TO JOIN MEDICAL ARMY CORPS

Mr. Fred Love a well known resident of the 14th district is leaving his home for Calgary this week to undergo training there for the Royal Army Medical Corps. No more worthy service can a man render in this great war than to care for the sick and wounded on the battlefield. His wife and little son will accompany him to Edmonton where they will reside for a time. Their many friends join in wishing Mr. Love success and God speed in his work for humanity his King his country.

FORMER VISITOR WRITES LETTER FROM FRANCE

Mr. Arch McLean Wainwright Alberta.

Dear Sir: Just a line from a stranger. I have met your boy in our "Bill and Tom" services in the Y.M.C.A. and we have become friends. It is a strange coincidence that I was in Wainwright about a year ago. My mission on that occasion was to interest men of means and others in the military work of the Y.M.C.A. If you will look up a newspaper printed in your town in week of Feb. 7th 1916 or the following week you may see an account of my visit. A number of your towns people assisted us in our work. Strangers as it would seem some of your Wainwright boys are now enjoying the comforts etc. supplied by Y.M.C.A. could you get information to the newspaper. I am just dropping this line to let you know I have met your son Andy.

Yours Sincerely
E. G. Duncan, Capt.

LOCAL CURLERS CHOOSE RINK FOR BONSPIEL

The big Bonspiel to be held in the city of Edmonton beginning next Tuesday will be attended by a first class rink from this town. The rink chosen to represent the curling club consists of Ferguson, Ross, Pigeon, and Wanless. Mr. Wanless and Mr. Ross will skip alternately in all probability. This rink ought to make a good showing. The good wishes not only of all curlers but of our citizens, go with them for valiant success. Ferguson being one of this number accounts for the early appearance of your local paper this week.

BORN TO Mr and Mrs Parsons, on Jan 29th a daughter.

Mr. Frank McKay for over a year section foreman on the G. T. P. has been transferred to Calgary. He has been promoted to the position of road master and will have charge of the Toilett-Calgary branch. He and his family left for their new home last week. They will reside in Calgary.

If, through this bit of advice, to your paper, an improvement to the department of our local audiences. Yours Sincerely, CITIZEN.

Methodist Plan Supper Feb 9th

"Better than ever" is the motto of the ladies of Grace Methodist church in connection with the supper in which they will hold Friday Feb 9th from 6 to 8 p.m. in the church. Baked beans, mince, salad, pies, cakes and other tasty things will be served. No effort is being spared by the ladies to make this one of the most attractive events of the season. Plan to take your supper at Grace church Friday Feb 9th.

At the evening service W. F. Gould, Inspector under the Liquor Act in the Attorney General's Department of the Provincial Government will deliver an address on the "Enforcement of the Liquor Act." Friends and enemies of the act in this town are alike invited to attend.

AUTO LICENCES

Auto owners of this town are reminded that their 1916 auto licences are out of date and that if they hope to use their car again this year they must secure new licences. During the month of January just ended no less than four thousand licences had been applied for and granted in the province of Alberta. Most of these were renewals. Spring is not here yet, but it will be soon. You may want to take your car out in a hurry some day and will be disappointed to find you cannot, not having a licence. Be reasonable cautious, for the orders are this year, that the laws will be strictly enforced. Get your application in for a licence at once to the provincial department.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ferguson are at Edmonton this week taking in the Bonspiel.

Mrs. W. S. Clark returned from the east last Friday.

Mrs. Swenerton and Mrs. Munn are amongst the arrivals back from Toronto.

BUDGET OF NEWSY ITEMS FROM THE TOWN EDGERTON

Was it cold the past week? Ask the next person you meet.

Mrs. Murdoch and children returned home from an extended visit at Lessor, Sask.

Chas. Waite is having the interior of his hardware store refreshed with a coat of white paint. This will improve the looks of the store and help a great deal in the display of his stock.

Ray Watson returned from Rochester, Minn. where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

The Commercial Hotel has changed hands. Mr. and Mrs. Munro being the new owners and will be glad to cater to the old as well as the new patrons. Under Mr. and Mrs. Johnston's able management the hotel has prospered, may it continue to do so.

Nineteen kinds of cigars and three of 2 per cent. at the Cozy Cafe.

Miss Lissmer, our primary teacher is on the sick list this week.

The Literary Society is becoming very interesting to the country as well as the town residents. Last Wednesday the school children held a spelling match and Mr. Morrow, who has travelled extensively, gave a lecture entitled "My trip up" continued on page eight

A PENALTY OF $100 FOR PEDDLING BEEF WITHOUT LICENSE

A few weeks ago we received from the Department of Agriculture, a new item regarding Farmers' Rights to Peddle Meat but did not suggest the amount of the penalty for infraction of the law which states that "No person, other than a Licensed Butcher, shall offer beef for sale in any town or city until the hide and each quarter of the animal slaughtered has been inspected, and said hide and each quarter have been stamped by an Inspector of Stock or Brand Reader." This refers only to beef.

The penalty for an infraction of this clause reads as follows: Any person contravening any of the provisions of the Stock Inspector Act shall be guilty of an offence and on summary conviction thereof liable to a penalty not exceeding $100.00.

BORN - At Wainwright, Feb 1st to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. V. Penckold, a son.

BORN - ON January 30th to Mr. and Mrs. Fournier, a son.

Charles Eggar is in town on his last leave before going with the Medical Army Corps for active service. Mr. Eggar expecting to leave next week with his company.

A Parable

The Bully Who Was Trying to Make Peace as a Man

Once upon a time there was a very large man who devoted himself to the methodical development of his muscles. He was a bully, and his neighbors, who were small, were afraid of him.

Then one day the large man, feeling inordinately proud of the bulge under his thick shirt, went over to his neighbor's yard, stole his neighbor's child, and forced his neighbor out of the house.

Forthwith several bystanders came to the assistance of their outraged neighbor. They were small men, but they were many, and they were brave.

The large man, who was now surrounded by a crowd of men, felt that he was in a bad way. He was alone, and he was surrounded by a crowd of men.

He tried to run, but he was too big to run. He tried to fight, but he was too big to fight. He was in a bad way.

He tried to run, but he was too big to run. He tried to fight, but he was too big to fight. He was in a bad way.

He tried to run, but he was too big to run. He tried to fight, but he was too big to fight. He was in a bad way.

He tried to run, but he was too big to run. He tried to fight, but he was too big to fight. He was in a bad way.

Putting Millions Behind Prison Bars

No Thought of Democracy

What's wrong with Germany? The answer is simple. The German people are not free. They are not allowed to think for themselves.

They are not allowed to speak for themselves. They are not allowed to do anything for themselves.

They are not allowed to live for themselves. They are not allowed to die for themselves.

They are not allowed to love for themselves. They are not allowed to hate for themselves.

They are not allowed to be happy for themselves. They are not allowed to be sad for themselves.

They are not allowed to be free for themselves. They are not allowed to be unfree for themselves.

They are not allowed to be equal for themselves. They are not allowed to be unequal for themselves.

They are not allowed to be just for themselves. They are not allowed to be unjust for themselves.

They are not allowed to be good for themselves. They are not allowed to be bad for themselves.

Zeppelins Afraid of Paris

Protection so Complete That a Raid Would Be Futile

Some interesting facts bearing upon the immunity of Paris from attack by German airships have been recorded. The Germans are well aware that any airship that succeeds in evading the local defenses must run the gauntlet of swarms of acrobats and scores of guns on re-crossing the French front. There are no airplanes of the type of the Paris aerodromes that can be used against hostile air craft. The huge planes, armed with machine-guns and able to travel at a speed that would make a Zeppelin's speed seem slow, are not used for such purposes. France Gave Quarter of Munitions to Assist Allies

Deprived of Resources, Brave Country Husbanded Man-Power and Allied Her Colleagues

France was deprived of 50 per cent of her resources in coal, 90 per cent of her iron ore and 80 per cent of her steel-making capacity.

At the same time the developments of the war multiplied her needs of precisely the things which those resources supplied. Official figures just furnished to the Associated Press show, however, that France has managed to meet her needs.

EFFECTS OF WAR

Already the war has had far-reaching results—industrial, social, religious, political. Everywhere and in every direction there are signs that the old order is changing, giving place to the new. One of the most apparent changes, in all probability will be that in the religious sphere. Multitudes of men who have gone from our dominions to the battlefields of Europe, and who while they were at home, were outside the influence of the organized church, and upon whom religion had a very slender hold, have, it is agreed, become deeply religious. They are teaching us, by their marvelous spirit of self-sacrifice, not alone in moments of supreme danger, but again and again in the most commonplace acts of daily life, the true spirit of Christianity. The ideal which these soldiers admire, to which they look, is the man who proved himself unselfish, uncomplaining and self-sacrificing. In this do they not express the essential elements of Christianity? They, perhaps, know nothing of orthodoxy, or dogmatic Christianity. And the church of the future must rouse itself, and casting off many unessential things, adapt itself to meet the needs of these new recruits.

"An effect of the war shall therefore surely be that the church—institutional religion—must first and foremost tell those soldiers from the front this fundamental truth—Him whom ye have been obeying and serving—unconscious Christians—Him declare we unto you. Manifestly the church has failed and is falling here. These men did not know that Christ was the Great Friend. This has been the church's failure, and not the omission to hammer dogma into their heads. Religious teachers must also, as a result of the war, if they are to be effective, use their understanding and their common sense. Perhaps just now their chief need is to form a clear conception of a true Christian life, its relation to commerce, society, education, art, science, amusements. The absence of this today in their teaching is as pitiable as it is harmful. It has created an atmosphere of uncertainty and "unsoundness" about religion, which has made it ineffective, unappealing to those who feel it their duty here to live, not as monks or nuns, but as men and women. If such a most needed reformation in religion be an effect of the war, it will surely not have been fought in vain."

MILITARISM

There is considerable movement at present in the direction of education in the causes of the present war. The main object presumably would be to enlighten the children, but there are many grown-up babies who might go to school again. We cannot keep the causes of war too clearly before our minds—one of which is unrestrained militarism. There is evidently a right and a wrong use of militarism. The Right Honourable Arthur Henderson, member of the British war council, not long since defined militarism as an army not kept in its proper place, and says that "either German military power must be effectively controlled by a government which has adequate regard to moral constraints, or that power must be so weakened as to cease to be dangerous."

Dr. Francis Ascham also makes a distinction between legitimate and illegitimate military power or Prussian militarism when he says that Prussian militarism is "an organized effort toward world domination by an illegitimate application of immortalized military power." He says further "We do not suggest that every form of militarism or use of force is wrong, but its legitimacy and the possibility of supporting or even tolerating it are dependent on that use being firstly, in the right spirit, secondly, in the right way, and thirdly, for right ends." An unlawful desire for world domination and an illegitimate use of militarism might be considered amongst the causes of the present war, which we are to be taught.

DURABLE PEACE

According to Mr. Balfour, British secretary of foreign affairs, the British people are desirous of only a durable, a lasting peace. To effect this he points out three conditions that must be fulfilled. The first of these is that "existing causes of international unrest should as far as possible be removed or weakened which would mean, of course, evacuate and restore all the territory she has invaded; the second is that the aggressive aims and the unscrupulous methods of the Central Powers should fall into disrepute amongst their own peoples; and the third is that behind international law, and behind all treaty agreements for preventing or limiting hostilities, some form of international sanction should be devised which would give pause to the hardest aggressor. These three conditions cannot, it would seem, be thought about until the Hun sees that he is hopelessly beaten."

DOES THIS MEAN YOU?

ARE YOU allowing your stock to feed out of doors during the winter?

It will take two weeks feeding to recover the loss of one day under such conditions.

Think it over. Then come in and let us show you how little it will cost you to put up a building to shelter the number of cattle you own.

OFFERS OF PEACE RIVER COUNTRY RAILWAYS OPENING OF NEW FERTILE DISTRICTS

Peace River Country is Now an Integral Part of Producing Canada, Served With Three Hundred Miles of Railways, and Having a Population of Fifteen Thousand

Had the Canadian Pacific Railway Company continued its original intention 30 years ago when it went to great cost to have a narrow line run from Winnipeg to Edmonton through the Peace River country and on through the Peace River valley, then down the Fraser to Vancouver, this story could have been written long ago, and the world would have known much earlier of the valley of the Peace as one of the richest, most fertile sections of the Dominion. What a little thing frequently ruins the destinies of human beings. Like wheat, a little thing often ruins the destinies of a country. Thirty years ago the railroad builders were not so much interested in the valley of the Peace as they are now, and it was not until the late '80s that the line was extended to the Peace River. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s.

Time dragged on indefinitely before it was discovered that grain would grow here as well as anywhere else in the world, and there was an abundance of the "plain" waiting for settlement. "Settlement," however, was not the word that was wanted, for it was not until the late '80s that the line was extended to the Peace River. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s.

Then one day without any cause or clamor, there started from Edmonton the two steel rails pointing north. This was five years ago, and the Peace River country was then a vast, unpopulated wilderness. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s.

Year by year the line of steel crept north. It crossed the Peace River, crossed the Peace River, crossed the Peace River. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s.

Today the Peace River country is an integral part of producing Canada, with fifteen thousand people of whom every one of whom lives firmly that it is the best place on earth, and are ready to back that belief with both labor and capital. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s.

It has an all well from which flows real oil from Nature's springs. The "little thing" that ruined the destinies of the Peace River country was the fact that the line was not extended to the Peace River until the late '80s.

ROSEDALE NEWSLETS

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at the Methodist parsonage, Edgerton on Saturday Jan. 20th, on the occasion of Mr. Backus' 72nd Birthday, when a few of the members and friends of the Rosedale appointment gathered there to offer to him their heartfelt congratulations and good wishes. It was a complete surprise to him as he suspected nothing until the guests drove up to the door. A presentation was made of a gasoline mantle lamp with the following address:-

Dear Bro. Backus, we your members, adherents and friends met here on this, the anniversary of your 72nd birthday to express to you our heartfelt appreciation of your labours in our midst and to wish for you many happy returns of this day. We beg you to accept this lamp as a token of our love and good will and we pray that your declining years may be illuminated by the clear white light of God's love, which ever shines through the life consecrated through the master's services, signed on behalf of the Rosedale appointment, John Taylor, W. J. Gilbert, J. S. Graniger, W. James Gilbert, Joseph Taylor, F. E. Oxy, H. J. Lane, Mr. Backus made a suitable reply and the time past in a pleasant talk until the guests commenced to leave. Owing to the day being cold and stormy many who would like to have attended, were forced to give it up.

Mrs. J. A. Metcalf of Red Deer, who was home to attend the funeral of her mother Mrs. J. N. Taylor, returned to Red Deer on the 22nd.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Taylor, recently spent a few days at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor.

Miss Alice Taylor, is spending the week end with the Rev. and Mrs. Backus of Edgerton.

A letter was received on the 26 of Jan from Pte E. P. Taylor, stating that he got his initiation in the trenches on Xmas Day. He says "It's no fun, but I guess it might be worse. Truly hard on the nerves."
